INTRODUCTION – AABH CoE

African American Behavioral Health CENTER OF EXCELLENCE

Funded October 1, 2020, for 5 years by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration:

From its administrative and academic home in the National Center for Primary Care at Morehouse School of Medicine (MSM) in Atlanta, the new Center of Excellence develops and disseminates training, technical assistance (TA), and resources to help practitioners eliminate behavioral health disparities within this large and diverse population.

- Because of the urgent need for greater Equity and Effectiveness in Behavioral Health Services for African Americans. This innovative yet deeply grounded Center has been structured to mobilize the scholarship and expertise of many distinguished voices in African American behavioral health and health equity to address:
 - Systemic inequities that have blocked access to and engagement in behavioral health services and support for African Americans
 - The scarcity of culturally appropriate evidence-based interventions and approaches for African Americans and insufficient dissemination of the resources that do exist
 - Minimal workforce development on social determinants of health, health disparities, historical trauma, unconscious bias, and ways of building cross-cultural respect/trust

GOALS:

Increase the capacity of BH systems to provide outreach, engage, retain, and effectively care for Black/African American (B/AA) people.

Improve dissemination of up-todate information and culturally appropriate evidenced-based practices/approaches for B/AA people.

Increase workforce development opportunities focused on implicit bias, social determinants of health, structural racism, and other factors that impede high-quality care for B/AA people.

Increase collaboration between CoE and SAMHSA TTA providers, to infuse culturally appropriate information on B/AA people in all SAMHSA-funded TTA Centers.

Community Model

VISION-THE LIGHT THAT GUIDES OUR WORK

"The work that the CoE is doing has helped us move our community to a health equity approach." Joe Powell, LCDC, CAS

OUR PERSPECTIVE:

- traces the burdens of history and calls on the healing gifts of Black cultures;
- · explores the science and promotes culture-specific models and adaptations;
- · encompasses the behavioral health effects of the social determinants of health; and
- focuses on the strengths and needs of individuals, families, and communities.

OUR APPROACHES:

- create inclusion in our work, and in services for a people wounded by exclusion;
- · explore and instill engagement based on honesty, respect, and compassion;
- · model and promote true and trustworthy collaboration on all levels; and
- seek to find, foster, and reward innovative solutions.

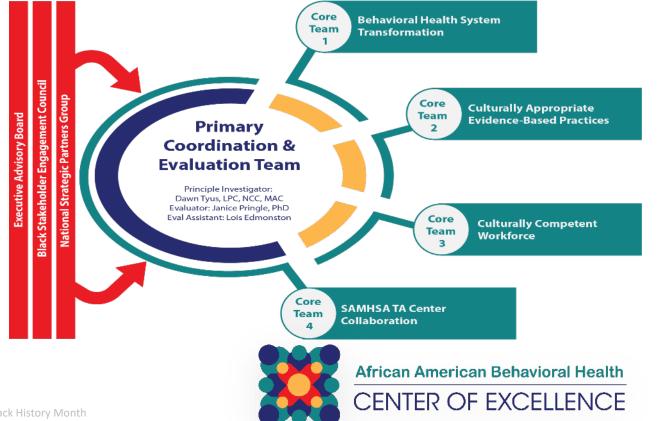

OUR FOUR CORE TEAMS:

- encourage and support systems transformation to increase equity and effectiveness;
- . find and disseminate culturally relevant evidence-based practices;
- develop the behavioral health workforce, from pre-service to leadership; and
- seek and engage in collaboration with federal and SAMHSA-funded partners.

OUR KEY INITIATIVES:

- instill wellness and inspire new careers through collaboration with HBCU networks;
- prepare the new generation of behavioral health leaders through our Fellows Academy;
- study the roots of Black youth suicide and foster collaborative efforts and solutions; and
- develop tools for increasing the welcoming, inclusion, and respect of African Americans.

SAMHSA Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration

ACCOMPLISHMENTS-REDUCING DISPARITIES AND INCREASING EQUITY

REDUCING DISPARITIES through training, technical assistance (TA), and resources that:

- make organizations more welcoming and inclusive,
- help practitioners recognize and address their own biases,
- · improve engagement and retention by promoting evidence-based treatment, and
- reach multiple disciplines by providing a variety of continuing education credits.

INCREASING BEHAVIORAL HEALTH EQUITY, BY:

- · examining inequity through a system of environmental scans,
- · helping the field implement change strategies, and
- sparking collaboration across the SAMHSA training and TA networks.

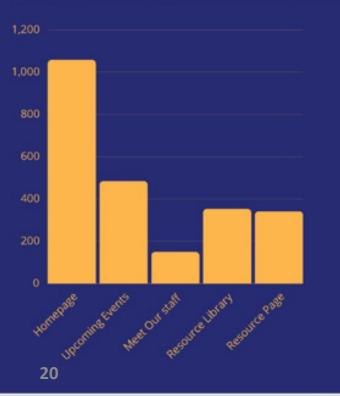

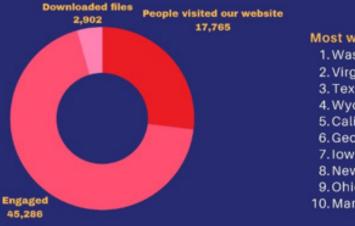

"The COE has developed a way to identify neatly and cleanly the intersectionality of the other CoEs' work with the issues they face, and has moved forward to provide education, technical assistance and collaborations." Holly Hagle, PhD

- LED Ribbon Board banner and mental health commercial aired on the Superdome jumbotron during the game

4. Digital Integration

- Inclusion of 988 graphics on the Bayou Classic app, website, and various social media channels
- Successful collaboration with influential student community members, including ambassadors and a dance team member

5. Geo-Targeted Campaign

- Utilization of geo-targeting for digital ads within a two- to five-mile radius of key locations
- Targeting during Bayou Classic events and game day from November 22 to November 30

6. Post-Event Retargeting

- Continued retargeting of individuals previously within the radius for five days post-event
- Aim to increase the frequency of exposure to key 988 messages among the target audience

7. Integration into Statewide Campaign

- Incorporation of high-performing, evergreen ads into the broader statewide paid media campaign
- Leveraging success at Bayou Classic for a wider reach across the state

8. Influential Student Community Involvement

- Inclusion of influential student ambassadors: Miss GSU Madison Johnson and Miss SU Jordan Williams
- Collaboration with a member of the GSU dance team to strengthen ties with student communities

Black Youth Suicide Policy Academy Action Plan

Goal #1- Build a community network centering on Black youth populations

Involve black-owned businesses and organizations that serve youth to become suicide informed of warning signs, risk factors, protective factors, and how to help; Barbershops, Recreational Departments, Sports Coaches, Faith Based Organizations, Libraries, School-based programs, etc.

Goal #2- Increase awareness of wellness for Black youth

- Partner with local HBCU students to create an awareness campaign that emphasizes mental and emotional wellness; the campaign would consist of art designs, the creation of a song/jingle, and PSAs
- Develop a Black Youth Advisory Council to include participants that are within the youth population
- Goal #3- Analyze suicidal behaviors and deaths among Black youth
 - Develop an analytical report on youth suicide in Louisiana that is filtered by demographics to capture the trends of black youth suicide within the state

Maya Angelou's poem "Still I Rise" is a powerful expression of resilience, strength, and defiance in the face of oppression and adversity. While the poem doesn't explicitly address stress and trauma, its themes can be related to those experiences.

PLAAY: Preventing Long-term Anger & Aggression in Youth

A culturally relevant intervention that relies upon the stress reduction benefits of physical activity and Recast theory (Racial Encounter Coping Appraisal and Socialization Theory) to promote the development of healthy coping skills

Trauma Informed Congregation

Trauma-informed/faith-based training assists organizations in realizing the impact of trauma and integrating knowledge about trauma into policies and practices. These trainings help the organizations to become better equipped to provide safe environments for children, youth, families, and individuals who have been traumatized. Becoming a Trauma Informed Congregation allows organizations to learn and put into practice new ways of compassionately and effectively approaching trauma and mental health concerns as a trauma informed organization/congregation.

Rise with empathy to help others

Open Table

During 2023, Partnership for Child Health joined forces with Open Table, a nonprofit organization that helps transform communities. Two Core Table Models have been launched to assist with complex challenges and to implement sustainable life plans for the Open Table families. Over the course of a year, volunteers meet weekly with the families to equip them with the skills, knowledge, and resources needed to improve and sustain their quality of life, allowing them to shift from surviving to thriving.

Rise Above Challenges

Speaker Series

Our Speaker Series is a family engagement activity that brings the families we serve together for an evening of food, fun, and fellowship. During the series we have dynamic speakers, engaging performers, and culinary delights by local caterers. We started the series to provide families with a time where they can sit with each other and be inspired.
